

From Manual Registration to Presentation in the National Culture Portal and Europeana

Mariane Aaron, Manager of MANA, Israeli Collections Management Systems
Israeli Ministry of Culture

This paper presents the process of publishing collection items from museums onto the internet (currently either on the National Culture Portal or Europeana).

All the steps are fully described, starting from the very early stage of manual registration of items.

Because MANA is the digital system for items registration provided to museums by the Israeli Ministry of Culture, registration of items in MANA is a mandatory stage before their publication to the Internet.

In addition, this paper briefly describes additional properties that might help potential) MANA users to improve the management of their collections.
